

the 1990s, the number of people with a mental health problem has increased by 50% (Mental Health Foundation 2000). The prevalence of mental health problems has increased in the general population, and the incidence of mental health problems has increased in the prison population (Mental Health Foundation 2000).

There is a growing awareness of the need to address the mental health needs of prisoners. Winds of Change, heralding a new beginning,
now fill the air.
A gentle breeze--
a rustle in the leaves,
a ripple on the glassy pond, suggesting something new-- a new hope, perhaps...

a new beginning--
the dawning of a new day, filled with new responsibilities,
new hopes,
new horizons...

AND the rising sun
BRINGS new challenges-- reflecting off the window, making ever-changing shadows on the sands,
the restless wind gently blows the sand away...

DEDICATION

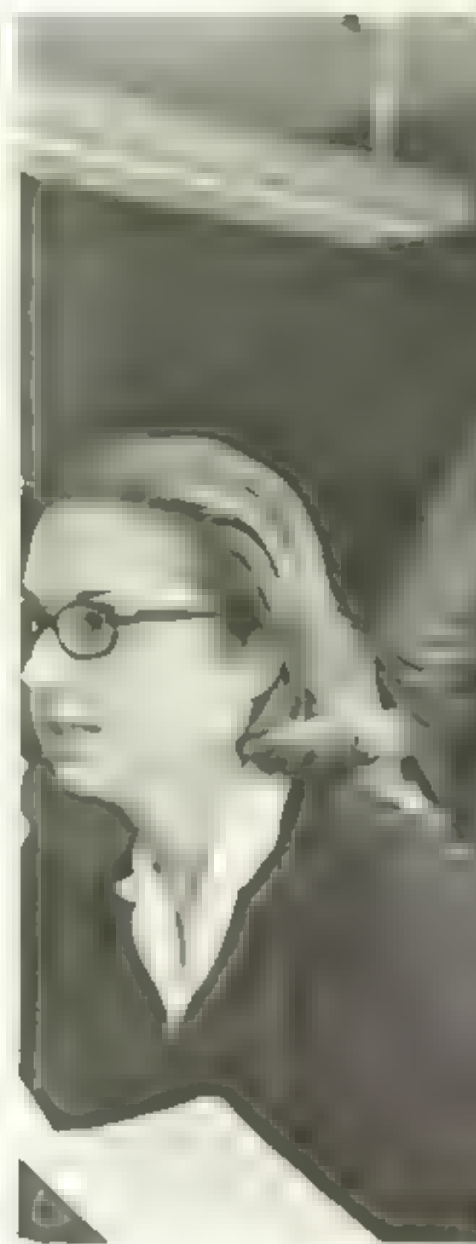

Since the beginning of the Girls' School, Mrs. Lynn Snyder, as physical education director for the girls, has made innumerable contributions to Webb. In intramural sports, "Girle" organized competition between classes as well as between the two teams into which the girls are divided. She developed the Athletic Committee, created the W-Girl Award, and started the annual Dads' Night, which culminates the year's activities in girls' sports. Outside of intramural athletics, Girle was one of the originators of the annual Play Day, involving girls from various Tennessee private schools. For all these contributions and for the outgoing, understanding spirit she has brought to Webb, we of the 1969 Princeps wish to show our appreciation to Girle by dedicating this yearbook to her.

Physical Plant, Academic

This year, Webb enjoyed the benefits of a number of changes in daily activities and in facilities. Perhaps the most outstanding of these changes, and certainly the one most enjoyed by the students, was that of co-educational classes in grades 9 - 12. Academically, the school was re-organized into the Lower School (grades 7 - 9) in the former Girls' Building, and the Upper School (grades 10 - 12) in the former Boys Building. Although some contended that the old system was more successful, the majority of the students were pleased to have members of the other sex in their classes.

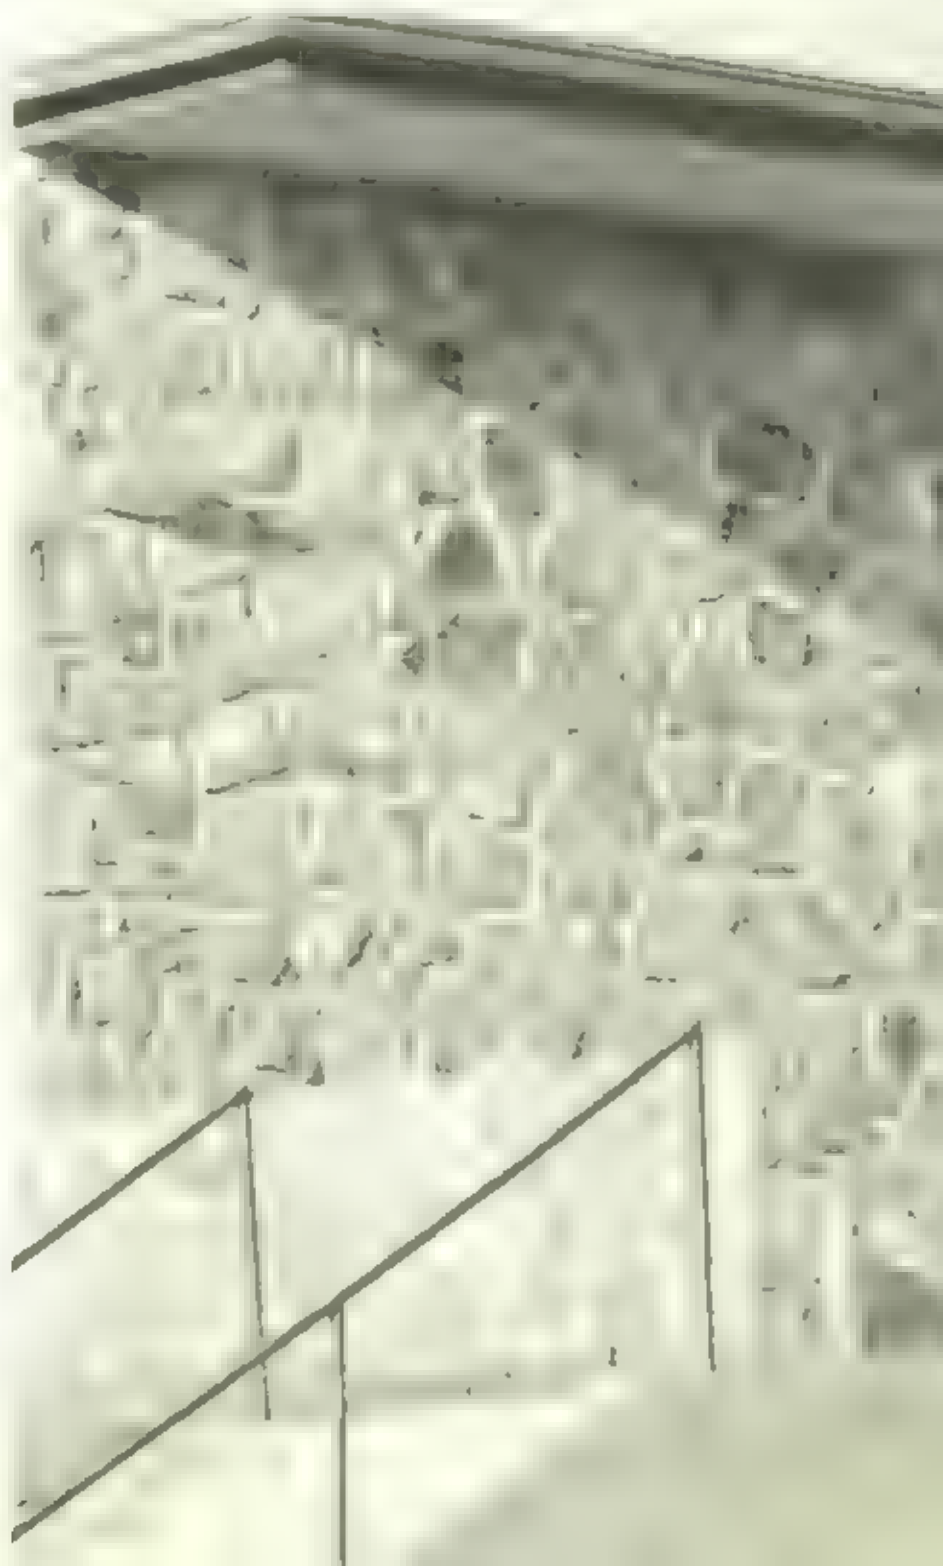

In an expansion of Webb's physical plant, the new gymnasium complex was completed this year. Providing Webb with a large tartan basketball floor, the gym is equipped with a concession stand and adequate dressing rooms for the entire student body. Also included are rooms for weightlifting and gymnastics. A girls' hockey field was built next to the Central Building. The Lower School study hall was remodeled with the installation of theatre-type seats, a feature enjoyed by Upper and Lower School students alike.

Two Student Councils Co-ordinate Webb Life

In 1968-1969, both the Upper School and the Lower School Student Councils played a major role in student life. Students became aware of the responsibility which must be accepted by each person, as opposed to the notion that the Student Council has almost no affiliation with the student body. The Upper School Council emphasized personal responsibility in discipline and participation in school affairs. Four permanent committees aided the Upper School Council in co-ordinating student activities. The committees were these: Athletic Committee, Community Service Committee, School Service Committee, and Social Committee. A new feature this year was the establishment of the Discipline Review Boards, student groups which were chaired by Vice-Presidents of the Student Governments, and which served as counseling and demerit appeal boards.

$350,000 Raised For New Science Complex

With Duds' Day, the AFS Carnival, and, most important, the Science Building Campaign, fund raising activities at Webb reached new heights of success this year. Duds' Day, held annually to raise money for the United Fund, saw a variegated parade of costumes ranging from Uncle Sam to Old Diamond. In late April, the AFS Carnival, which each year supports Webb's foreign exchange student, was held outdoors for the first time. Among other events, the Horror House and the Pie Throw were especially popular. The most outstanding of Webb's fund raising activities this year, however, was undoubtedly the campaign in which numerous volunteer workers raised the $350,000.00 necessary to build the new science complex. This building will provide students and faculty alike with much needed facilities for science studies.

Cheerleaders Spark Rousing Spartan Spirit

The cheerleaders began this school year with more pep and enthusiasm than in years past. With the experience from a week at cheerleading camp with the anticipation that this year Webb would have its best football and basketball seasons, and with the knowledge that the football field lights would work and the new gym would soon be completed, the Spartan Sprinters worked to get the football season off to a good start. At the opening pep rally, they introduced the "Hey Now" skit, which proved to be popular throughout the year. Spirit was exceptionally strong at the McArthur and Oreda games in football and during the Mid-South tournament in basketball. As the school became coed, for the first time in Webb's history, a boy, Kevin Zirkle, joined the cheerleading squad. The other cheerleaders were Captain Tandy Pryse, senior Julia Webb, juniors Jane Saalfeld and Celeste Walton, sophomores Connie Carlson and Susie Webb, and alternates Kreis Bailey, Jane Lockett, and Sally Ridenour.

W-Girls and Lettermen Support Pep Club

As Webb varsity teams achieved the most outstanding athletic season in the school's history, the Pep Club also aroused new heights of enthusiasm among the Webb students by such activities as the sale of Webb spirit hats and the posting of spirit signs before every game. Closely associated with the Pep Club were the Lettermen, the elite of the varsity teams, and the W-Girls, chosen for their skill and sportsmanship in the girls' intramural sports. At Christmas, the Lettermen held their annual drive to prepare baskets for needy families. The drive was a great success largely because of the strong student support. In addition, the W-Girls once again led the girls' Ionian and Delphian teams into spirited competition in hockey, basketball, and volleyball.

Outdoor Club Invades East Tennessee Wilds

This year, the great outdoors saw a good bit of the Outdoor Club. Despite such misfortunes as smashed canoes, conflicting schedules, and bad weather, the club made several invasions into nature. The fall saw a float trip down the soon-to-be-dammed Little Tennessee River. Unfavorable weather kept the gear in storage during the winter, but in the spring club members were once again under the sun on a fishing trip. Mr. Lee was the Faculty Sponsor this year, with Charley White as President, Hu Blake as Vice-President, and Tommy Warren as Secretary-Treasurer.

Inter-act Club Supports School, Community

Inter-act Club, now in its second year here at Webb under the guidance of Mr. James Webber and the sponsorship of the West Knoxville Rotary Club, has continued in the pursuit of its goals of individual initiative and social service. Setting a foundation to be followed by future clubs, Inter-act is the first club at Webb which is sponsored by an outside organization. Under the capable leadership of Tommy Warren, Joe Tidwell, and Arthur Ellison, the club undertook a larger role in school life and in the community through various projects. In particular, this year the club supported the William Herndon home for the elderly and planted some two thousand trees on the Webb campus.

JCL Activities Center on Roman Banquet

This year the activities of the Webb chapter of the Junior Classical League were better organized than ever in the past. Although, because of conflicting schedules, Webb was not able to send a delegation to the state convention, meetings were held at regular intervals during the school year, and under the direction of consuls Charles Reynolds and David Bowen, several interesting programs were offered. Dr. Harry Rutledge of the University of Tennessee Classical Language Department, for instance, gave a reading of some of Vergil's poetry, while at another meeting, Charles Reynolds and Barbara Scott spoke on Etruscan history. The highlight of the year was the Roman Banquet, arranged by Mrs. Fisher and Mr. Webber, and featuring as entertainment the ever-popular "Roman and Marcus Laugh-In," supervised by Mrs. Hardison.

Jesters Present J. B.

In a new and expanded program this year, the Jesters sponsored, in addition to the annual school play, several other theatrical activities. The major production was Archibald MacLeish's J. B. directed by Mr. Tadler. This serious two-act verse drama, a modern version of the story of Job, was quite a departure from the comedy performed in previous years. The Jesters also sponsored a production of James Thurber's "Walter Mitty" directed by Rick Bvess and performed at the AFS Carnival. Lastly, the Jesters were able to arrange for a performance of scenes from Bernard Shaw's St. Joan by the Alpha-Omega Players, a group of traveling actors. As a result of the success of all these new ventures, the Jesters have been able to buy the stage lights which have long been needed.

Walden Two Excites Literary Club Discussion

Continuing its recent emphasis on modern writers, the Literary Club, made up of the Advanced Placement English class and a rotating group from junior Honors English, enjoyed a tremendously successful year. The books chosen for the discussions, which were led by various members of the English department, included such works as William Faulkner's The Sound and the Fury, E. B. White's One Man's Meat, and Hannah Greene's I Never Promised You a Rose Garden. By far the most exciting meeting, however, featured B. F. Skinner's Walden Two, the detailed hypothesis of a modern utopia built around principles of behavioral psychology. Controversy raged as members debated revolutionary concepts of parenthood, education, and morals, which discard many of today's most fundamental values. In addition to reading a number of books, club members also attended a production of Bernard Shaw's Saint Joan by the Alpha-Omega players.

Current Events Club Has Varied Programs

The Current Events Club, composed of a select group of juniors and seniors, and sponsored by Mr. Jeff Chapman and Mrs. B. D. Lothrop, enjoyed an especially varied set of programs this year. Mr. Alex Harkness, a member of the Knoxville City Council, discussed issues of recent local interest in his talk illustrating the organization and functions of the City Council within Knoxville's government. With regard to national politics, Mr. Bob Braid and Mr. Bill McCoy, both of the University of Tennessee History Department, gave their personal opinions of the role of the conventional system and the Electoral College in modern-day Presidential elections, a subject especially pertinent due to the Presidential campaign then in progress. Outside of national politics and raising discussion to the international level were the talks by four Knoxville A.F.S. students from Norway, Denmark, Uruguay, and New Zealand.

Math Club Joins Mu Alpha Theta

In its second year at Webb, the Math Club, sponsored by Mrs. Crumpton, became a chapter of Mu Alpha Theta, the National High School and Junior College Mathematics Club, an honorary organization intended to stimulate interest in mathematics. At one of the club meetings, Mrs. Roger Neiswender, a former teacher at Webb, spoke on some of the more obscure, and more fascinating, aspects of the lives of such mathematicians as Euclid and Sir Isaac Newton. Among the club's other programs was the frustrating favorite of brain-teasing problems in topology and logic. At another meeting, the club members, feeling a need to escape the atmosphere of the classroom, amused themselves with various mathematical games such as Numbler, Heads-Up, and 3-dimensional Tic-Tac-Toe.

MATH CLUB OFFICERS: Beth Rader, President, Bruce Southworth, Vice-President, Katherine Talley, Secretary-Treasurer

Science Club Enjoys Speakers, Field Trips

Echoing an increased emphasis on science at Webb, the Science Club expanded both its organizational set-up and its spectrum of activities. In addition to the usual three club officers, an eight-member committee was elected to plan programs and field trips. Outstanding among the speakers at this year's meetings was Dr. Isabell Tipton, internationally known professor of physics at the University of Tennessee, who lectured and showed a movie on particle physics. As a result of widespread interest in computers, a field trip was arranged to the Oak Ridge computer center. A Lower School Science Club was also formed under the sponsorship of Mrs. Badgett.

French Club Benefits from Cultural Programs

This year the French Club, open to advanced French students, offered programs on French language and culture, featuring French movies and a production of Anouilh's Antigone. Club members also attended several meetings of the Knoxville chapter of l'Alliance Française, an international French club. In recognition of their scholarship in French, six members of the club, Dean Deeds, Susie Frère, Tina Graf, Becky Greene, Beth Rader and Katherine Talley, were inducted into the French National Honor Society.

Spanish Club Mixes Fun and Learning

Spanish Club members work on the piñata for their Christmas party

In an extremely active year, the Spanish Club offered a series of entertaining and educational meetings held monthly in members' homes. Among the most interesting programs was the viewing of slides made by Mr. Luedeka during a trip to Spain and Turkey. At Christmas there was a piñata party featuring the papier maché piñata the club had previously made and decorated. At another meeting, the club had as guests three Mexican college students from the Experiment in International Living. The students discussed the culture and government of their own country and also gave their impressions of America. Because of this extremely successful meeting, the club members desire to have more Spanish-speaking guests, so that they can have an opportunity, not only to learn about Spanish life, but also to converse in the Spanish language.

The purpose of this magazine is to encourage and provide an outlet for the creative ability of the student body. In the contest sponsored by the Pierian Spring in January overall interest in the publication was increased. Most of the entries came from the Lower School. This year Susie Frère served as the Editor-in-Chief with Mr Tutwiler as advisor. The editorial board Cliff Barbour, Rick Byess, Mathew Goodwin, Becky Greene, Katherine Talley, and Sandy Webb worked hard to make this year's issue one that the Webb Students can be proud of

Glee Club Benefits from Longer Practices

This year's Glee Club under the direction of Mrs. Benson Waterman has done a remarkable job in producing fine musical programs, despite the fact that most of its members graduated last year. Another deterring factor was the new schedule of rehearsals during regular class periods rather than the former Activity Period; this change allowed for longer practices, but at the same time it eliminated several much needed voices, whose scheduling did not fit in. New inexperienced voices were recruited with pleasing results.

Among its periodic performances were entertaining programs for the Mothers' Tea and two fund-raising dinners promoting the Projected Science Building. Participants especially enjoyed singing "I Got Plenty of Nothing" and selections from "Camelot." In spite of all disadvantages faced, Mrs. Waterman did a fine job. Congratulations are in order for another successful year!

Spartan Spirit Revises Its Approach to News

The Spartan Spirit took a whole new outlook on the news this year. Editor Becky Greene and her able staff tried to set a tone which was light and fanciful as well as informative. Aided by their advisor Mr. Tadler, the staff appealed to students by instigating student opinion polls, editorial cartoons, and student council reports. Sports coverage featured specials on the Oneida Bowl and the new Spartan Tartan. New humorous additions were the child photos of teachers and a special Tadler Santa in the Christmas issue. Other surprises included the April Fools issue and graffiti scattered throughout the news section. A special achievement was the success of the week-long journalism clinic which was held to help next year's staff.

1969 Princeps Seeks Excellence With Change

Change — the watchword in all facets of Webb life this year was plainly visible in the 1969 Princeps. Among significant firsts for 1969 were the 9" x 12" book size, the burnt orange cover, and the metal Spartan head on the front cover with the crest embossed on the back. Working under the direction of Mr. Ron Wempe of Delmar Printing Company, the '69 staff enthusiastically accepted the challenge to make the Princeps an accurate reflection of Webb life. Despite early planning, however, several sessions with the midnight oil preceded each deadline. But, nevertheless, all layouts were finally sent in, all proofreading was at last completed, and the final result, thanks to the work of numerous editors and staff members, was this yearbook, a graphic interpretation of the year

Fly Me To The Moon Sends Webb into Orbit

This year's dances soared to a new high. The Social Committee started with no money in the bank and ended the year with more than a hundred dollars. The Football Dance began the year; football players and their dates were admitted free, and the Martiniques played. The Christmas Dance, with the Sons of Caldonia playing, was equally successful. The best dance sponsored by the Social Committee, however, was the Twirp Dance — the first dance held in the gym and the first Webb dance with a psychedelic band, the Lemon Fog. After this dance, the Junior Class took over and produced one of the finest proms, preceded by a sumptuous banquet, Webb has ever seen. With the dance theme being Fly Me to the Moon, Tirone Smith and the Invaders gave a tremendous show. The Social Committee, with Mr. Chapman as sponsor and Julia Webb as chairman, and the Junior Class are certainly to be congratulated for the fine dances this year.

Awards Day, Commencement Honor Seniors

Initiating a new ceremony, on Wednesday, May 28, Webb held its first annual Awards Day to honor outstanding students. In the Lower School, Luce Overall and Jimmy Haslam received, respectively, the Henrietta Weigal Trophy for courtesy and the Frederick Elmore Award for citizenship. In the Upper School, Tina Graf and Dean Deeds received Latin awards; Sandy Webb, the senior Science Award, Dean Deeds, the Rensselaer Award, and Katherine Talley, the Journalism Award. Beth Rader, Tina Graf, and Dean Deeds were given awards for first place standing in the national French contest. After several songs by the Glee Club, Mr. Snodgrass presented the remaining Upper School awards. Doug Allen received the Oratory Award, and twelve top seniors received Senior Appreciation Certificates: Hu Blake, Gail Collmann, Susie Frere, Becky Greene, Anne Harkness, Lisa Margolin, Beth Rader, Bruce Southworth, Katherine Talley, Tommy Warren, Julia Webb, and Charles White. Then Susie Stiles was presented with the Serendipity Award, Lisa Margolin the Hudson Trophy, and Hu Blake the Spartan Spirit Trophy. As the final part of the program, Mr. Webb made a formal presentation of the Class of 1969, followed by a response from the Seventh Grade Chorus.

Baccalaureate for the senior class was held in the school cafeteria on Sunday, June 1. Bruce Southworth, class Salutatorian, opened the service with a prayer and a scripture reading. After the sermon by the Reverend George M. Webb of Shelby, North Carolina, the seniors and their parents were honored at the President's Buffet Dinner.

A week later, on Wednesday afternoon, June 4, the Commencement exercises for the 58 members of the Class of 1969 were held in the school gymnasium. After the invocation by Mr. James Curtis, the Glee Club sang "One God," and then following a word of welcome by Mr. Webb, Beth Rader delivered her valedictory address. Afterwards, Mr. Mackay presented the Lower School Scholarship Awards to Sally Calhoun and Rose Ellis and to David Chernoff. "The Impossible Dream" was sung by the Glee Club, and then Mr. Snodgrass presented the Upper School Awards. Beth Rader and Dean Deeds received academic honors, while Becky Greene was awarded the Margaret and Leonard Scheurmann Trophy for Scholarship, Integrity, and Graciousness of Spirit, and Bruce Southworth the S. J. Chapman Award for Leadership, Scholarship, and Integrity.

Dr. Charles A. Trentham, pastor of the First Baptist Church, gave the main address in which he challenged the graduating class to answer three questions about their future plans: What do you see? Whom will you follow? Where are you going?

Then, at last, the long-awaited moment arrived as Mr. Webb presented each expectant senior with his diploma. After Mr. Curtis' benediction ended the formal ceremonies, the new graduates of 1969 were honored with a reception in the courtyard of the Central Building held by the parents of the Class of 1970.

Webb Has First Undefeated Football Season

There is not enough one can say about the 1968 Spartan football team. Under mentors Jim McClain and ex-Webb player John Dougherty, the Webb eleven had a perfect (10-0) season, a bowl victory, and nine players who either made All Mid-South or received All Mid-South honorable mentions, a fact that may be attributed to the excellent coaching job.

The Spartans rolled through ten straight opponents en route to the first perfect season Webb has ever had in football. The victories came over arch-rival Farragut, Friendsville, Lanier, Catholic, Asheville, McCallie, Sewanee, St. Andrews, and Rule. The tenth win came in the second bowl game Webb has ever played, the Oneida Civic Bowl, with victory over the Oneida Indians. One of the sweetest victories of the year came against long-time rival McCallie, whom Webb met for the first time in football this year. Another pleasing victory came over S.M.A., whom Webb had not beaten since 1962.

Webb was led by a potent offense which held the opposition to an average of around six points per game, averaging themselves 31 points per game. The offense was led by the passing ability of quarterback Chip Howard to ends David Poss and David Bowen. These combinations set new yardage records for the season. The offensive line was led by Seniors Robert Leyen and David Kendall at the tackle slots. The passing attack was complemented by a slashing ground attack spearheaded by Tom Warren, Turner Britton, and Hank Walter. The fierce defense was composed of Co-Captains David Kendall and Steve Sonneland. These players were ably assisted by other defensive stars.

Mid-South Association Honors Nine Spartans

Many players received awards at the end of the season at the football banquet and in chapel. Tommy Warren, Robert Leyen, Chip Howard, and David Poss were chosen for the All Mid-South team, with David Kendall, Turner Britton, Rock Sonneland, Dale Mayo, and David Bowen receiving honorable mentions. Awards given out for the best blocker and highest scholastic average were both won by Robert Leyen; best offensive player, Chip Howard; the most improved player award went to Dale Mayo, and the best defensive player award was split by David Kendall and Tommy Warren.

Although the team is going to lose many senior standouts, the five juniors and sophomores from this team will return again next year to try to achieve another perfect season.

Freshman Team Sports Impressive Season

Webb's fine freshman football team won four straight games before finally bowing to a powerful Sevierville team. In the first game, Webb edged out Farragut 7 - 6, revenging a loss from the season before. Then they rolled over Central 14 - 6, again revenging a defeat from last season. In the third game, Webb defeated Karns by a score of 19 - 0 as the freshman Spartans began to gain momentum. Then, in the fourth game, Webb outlasted Karns at the Beavers' home field 19 - 14, to run the string of wins to four straight.

However, the Spartans' bandwagon was upset in the last game as they went after the first undefeated record for a Webb freshman team. The loss came at the hands of powerful Sevierville, who scored with just a few seconds left in the first half, and then hung on and held off Webb for a 7 - 0 win.

The offense was led by backfield men Tommy Evans, Alex Cunningham, and George Kern. The stout defensive squad was led by linemen Clyde Furr, Ricky Dew, Sam Watson, Harry Dinwiddie, and Charles Slatery. The alert secondary that picked off many enemy tosses was led by Jimmy Haslam, Mike Elliot, and Ricky Dover.

Coach Clay "Bear" Myers helped form this fine team of 1968 - 69. Next year's varsity team will proudly receive players from this team.

Junior High Spartans End Season with 3-2-2

This year the seventh and eighth grade football team had a winning season, finishing with a record of 4 - 2 - 2. The Webb team started off the season with impressive wins over Catholic (6 - 0) and Bearden (20 - 7). The next game was with Carter, who proved to be equal to the Spartans, and the game ended in a tie 0 - 0. The team's first loss came at the hands of Doyle by a score of 0 - 7. To avenge this loss, the Junior Spartans proceeded to defeat Young in the next game by a score of 26 - 0. Central was next, but they proved too tough, and the Junior Spartans took their second loss of the season by a score of 0 - 14. Next came Farragut, and in a hard-fought battle the Spartans emerged in a tie with the Admirals with a score of 6 - 6. At the end of the season the Junior Spartans ended second in the league. In a post-season bowl game, the club defeated Powell by a score of 13 - 0, thus becoming the champions of the South Knoxville Junior Bowl.

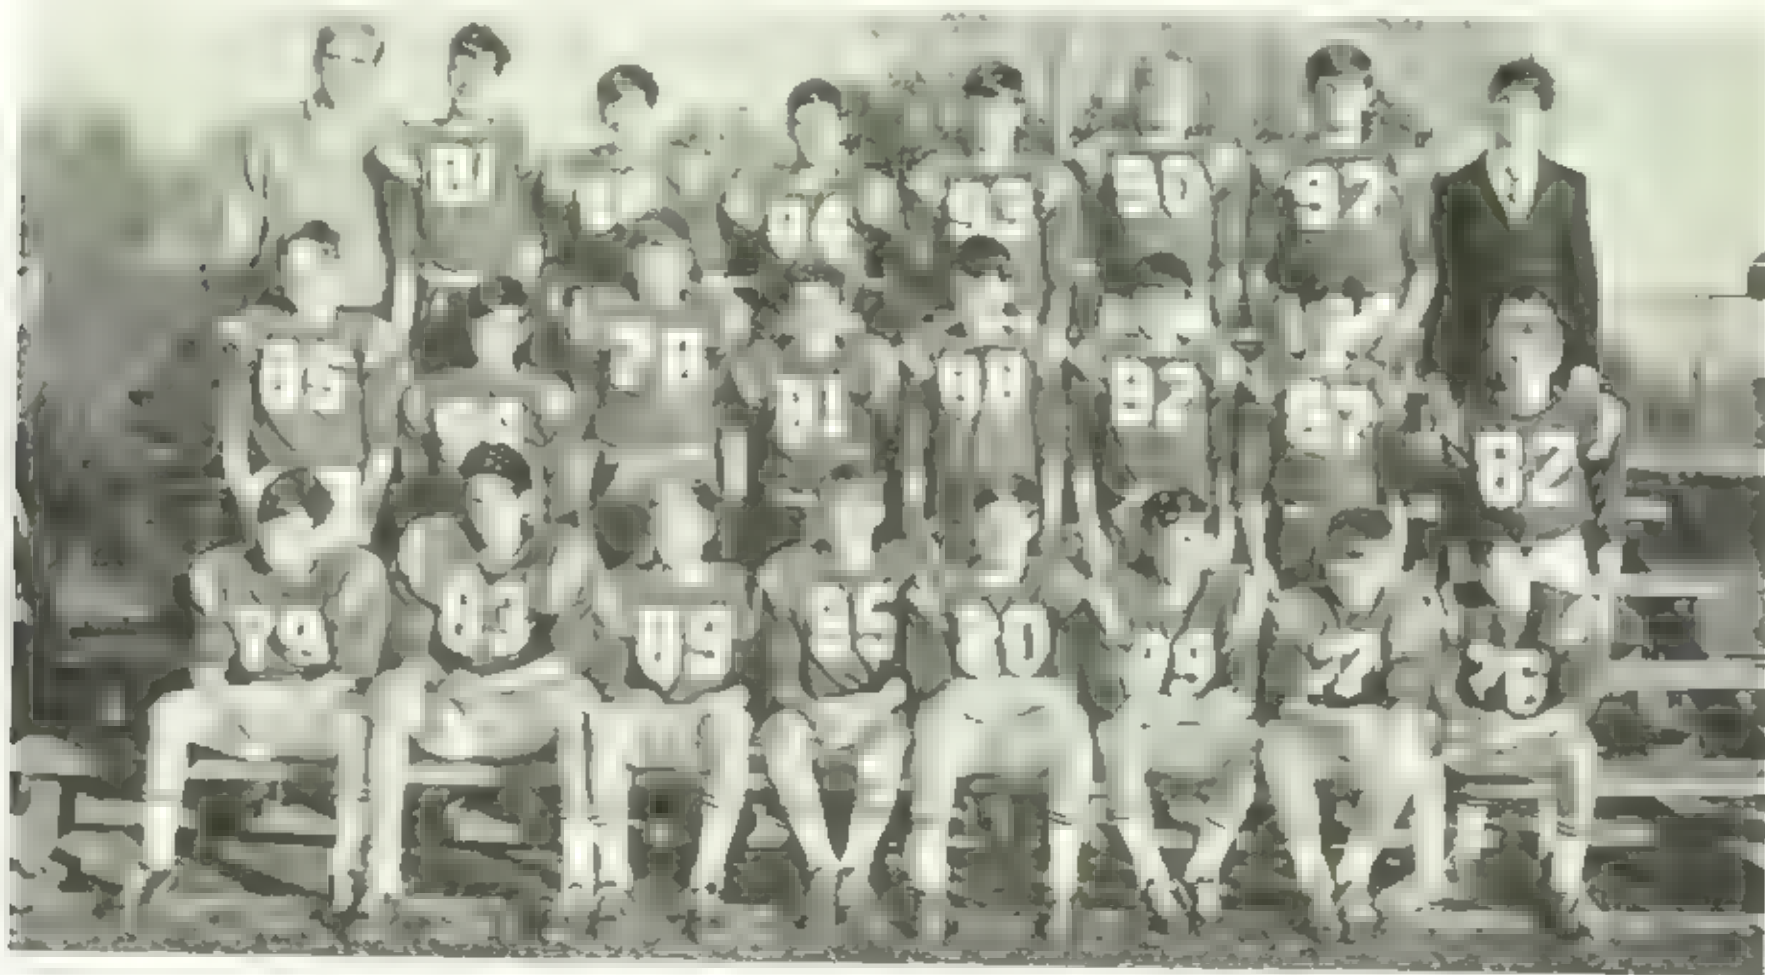

The offensive attack, led by Martin Walter, David Hutchinson, and quarterback Jack Carlson, rolled up a total of 71 points, while the defense, led by Steve Petrone and Sam Manning, held the opposition to 34 points. Coach Tarvin and assistant Clay Myers are looking forward to having the seventh graders back next year as eighth graders in order to keep filling the Webb trophy case.

Hockey Team Finishes Third with 9-6 Record

The Webb ice hockey team this year compiled a 9-6-0 record to gain third place in the Knoxville Recreation Bureau High School League. The team got off to a slow start losing three out of the first four games due to lack of man-power and poor organization. Losses were suffered at the hands of West (6-2), Bearden (7-3), and Doyle (5-4), while the first win of the season was against Fulton (11-1). As the season progressed, the Spartans improved greatly, beating both Holston and Young-South twice, Central once and Fulton again. Previous losses to Bearden and Doyle were avenged but perennial champions, West beat Webb twice more (6-3) and (8-4). Webb lost their final game of the season to Central (2-1) with five seconds left in overtime. Throughout the season the team was plagued with occasional defensive lapses and scoring slumps, but often rallied to win.

This year Coach Frank Lee was assisted by Mr. Ted Hutchins in coaching the team. Four seniors, Peter Hunt, Jim Burdette, Co-Captain Rock Sonneland, and Captain Bruce Southworth will be greatly missed next year. Coaches Lee and Hutchins have high hopes for next year with All-Star returnees Bo Harkness and Jeff McCrory, both sophomores.

Swim Team Shows Strength in Debut Season

Oakley, Kiger, and Zirkle inquire about their time in the medley relay.

Webb School's infant swimming team finished its first season with a list of impressive showings. Although handicapped with injuries and a lack of female competitors, the Spartan Splashers showed well in area competition and placed high in state and city meets.

The season started out with a close meet against Bearden. Because of a lack of girls, the team lost by a narrow margin. With the addition of a few more girls, they were ready to take on Catholic, and in a hard-fought battle the Spartans were defeated by a tremendous Catholic team. The last meet of the season involving more than one competing school was with West, and the determined Spartan swimmers came through victorious. In the city high school swim meet, the Spartan team placed fifth among all Knoxville high schools, breaking many records in the process.

The boys' medley relay team, composed of Turner Britton, Jim Kiger, Chup Oakley, and Scott Roberts, set the city high school record in the 160 medley relay. The girls' relay team, consisting of Candy Reynolds, Merrill Dunford, Cindy Kendall, and Kris Bailey, also added many points during the season. Many other swimmers contributed valuable strength to the team's effort. Almost all swimmers will return next year, allowing the Webb team to develop an even stronger squad and to establish even greater regional superiority.

Spartans Champions of Mid-South A Division

For the 1968-69 campaign Webb fielded perhaps the closest knit unit of basketball players ever before in the history of the school. A squad of twelve boys, ten of whom started at one time or another during the season, shared the bitter, and in the end, the sweet aspects of the game of basketball.

From the beginning Coach Tarvin expected a great team because he realized, probably better than anyone else, the tremendous potential of the ball club. Before the games had even started, Ted Cook was sidelined with illness, and in the opening contest against Jacksboro Ian Zirkle was set back with a sprained ankle which kept him out of the defeat at the hands of the McCallie team. Three further losses were suffered before Christmas to Baylor, Farragut, and Newport.

After the team's first victory of the season which was over Friendsville and a victory over T.S.D., the Spartans then braced themselves for a homestand against the Blue Tornado from McCallie. The next night, perhaps slowed by fatigue or due to a little overconfidence, Webb let Farragut slip by them a second time. After this loss Captain Jay Lentz and Co-Captain Ian Zirkle let it be known that they did not plan to lose again, and the rest of the unit voted by their actions as they ran, jumped, and shot past St. Andrews, Marion, and Sewanee in bringing the Mountain Invitational Trophy home to rest.

On the weekend of January 13-14, the titanic terrors of the tartan hosted Sewanee, St. Andrews, and Asheville in the Webb Invitational Tournament. The Spartans defeated Sewanee and St. Andrews handily, but had to wait a few weeks to meet with Asheville for the championship. After this encounter, Webb returned victorious with another trophy for the trophy case.

Webb's victory column put on weight after feeding on T.S.D., Castle Heights, Washington College Academy, and Jacksboro. In the finals of the "A" division S.M.A. ran into a green whirlwind which blew them right off the court. This victory earned one more trophy for Webb.

Throughout the season as the schedule got hotter and the pressure increased, the team became a more cohesive unit. This was largely due to the great leadership of the seniors on the squad, Jay Lentz, Ian Zirkle, John Anderson, Dale Mayo, and Morton Massey, all of whom will be missed next year. Ian Zirkle and Ted Cook were All Mid-South selections this year, and "Zeke" was deservedly given the most valuable player award for the entire "A" division. Named to the All-Tournament team were Chip Howard, David Bowen, and Ian Zirkle. At the spring banquet Jay Lentz was given the Spartan Award, an award voted on by the players and given to the teammate who shows the most hustle and desire.

Although the seniors will be missed, next year's team, led by captain Herbert Slatery, promises to be another great one.

B-Team Basketballers Have Rough Season

This year's Webb B-Team had a record of 4-6. The B-Team line-up consisted of Hank Walter, Jim Wallace, Nick Wynn, Robin Hinton, and Jim Haslam. Charles Slatery, Sterchi Morton, George Kern, Ricky Dew, and Ed Kessel provided some scoring and rebounding help. There were wins over McCallie, Baylor the B-Team champ, Jacksboro, and Asheville, with losses to Baylor, McCallie, Jacksboro, TSD, and Farragut twice.

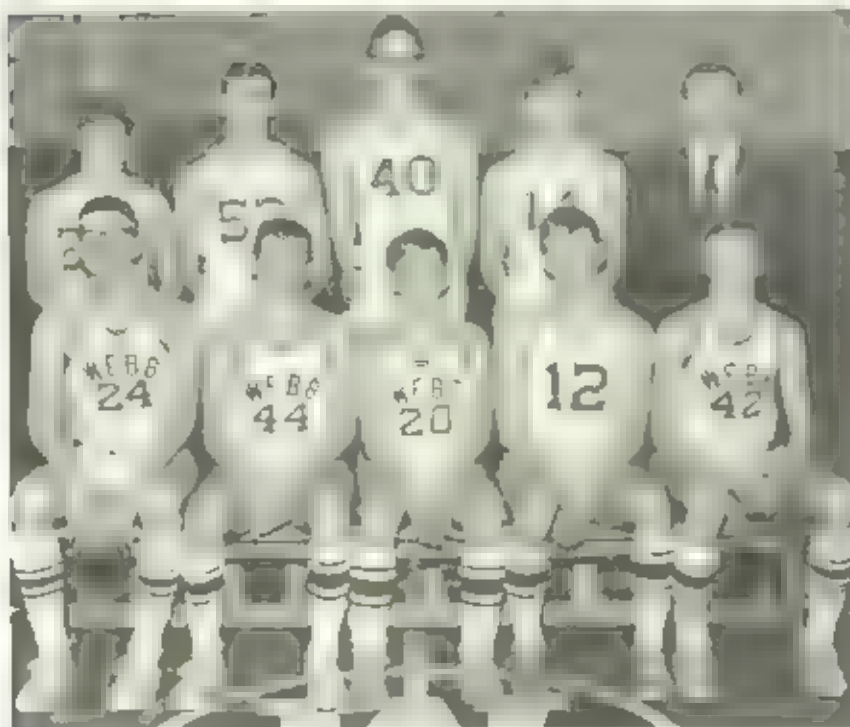

This year's team had many fine players, some of whom will definitely contribute to next season's varsity. Already this year four B-Teamers played on the varsity. There were problems with rotating line-ups due to various varsity players' being in and out of the line-up. Freshmen Charles Slatery, George Kern, Sterchi Morton, and Ricky Dew started several games for the B-Team and often played in two games the same weekend.

The best win of the season was an inspiring 66-31 romp over Baylor in the game that saw David Bowen pour in 28 points. Hank Walter and Jim Wallace also hit in the twenties during the season, while Nick Wynn and Robin Hinton each had two double-figure games. Jim Haslam was a steady starter all year and got eleven points in the season finale against Jacksboro. All in all, the B-Team had a much better team than the final record indicated.

All three of Webb's junior high basketball teams gained valuable experience in this year's season. The teams all had tough schedules and did quite well considering the stiff competition. The ninth grade team, captained by Jimmy Haslam and coached by John Dougherty, finished with an even record of three wins and three losses. Highlighting the ninth grade games were triumphs over McCallie and T.M.I. The eighth grade, in a winning season with Jack Carlson as the leading scorer, had a 7-6 record, including wins over T.S.D. and Fair View. Out of the six losses none were very serious, and the team with great support from Martin Walter, Jeremy Graf, and Jack Carlson shows much promise for future basketball action. Although the seventh grade team, with a record of two wins and eight losses, was not so successful as the eighth and ninth grade teams, the players did enjoy some spirited competition and a few very close games. The team, led by Kirby Chritton and Dennis Ragsdale, overpowered Hardin Valley twice and barely lost to Farragut. Both the seventh and eighth grade teams were coached by Clay Myers. All in all, each of this year's junior high teams, although they did not have outstanding records, offers tremendous potential for future varsity teams.

Webb Track Men Set Nine School Records

This year the Spartans had another good track season under the able direction of Coach Sharp. Although the team did not win all the meets, it did distinguish itself in many different areas. There were nine school records broken this year: Alex Schubert, 100-yard dash, 9.7; Ian Zirkle, 440-yard dash, 49.7; Jimmy Dean, 880-yard run, 2:03.4; Dale Mayo, shot put, 50.5; Robert Leyen, discus, 145'; Charlie White, pole vault, 22.6; Alex Schubert, broad jump, 21'11 3/4"; David Poss, Hank Walter, Chip Howard, Alex Schubert, 880-relay, 1:31.1; David Poss, Chip Howard, Ian Zirkle, Alex Schubert, 440-relay, 43.8. Webb also took eight first places in the Mid-South Track Meet. Ian Zirkle received Most Outstanding Performer at the Mid-South Meet while Alex Schubert was named Most Outstanding Performer at the Mid-South Regional Meet. With these records and honors in mind, it is easy to see why Webb lost only one dual meet, won the Regional Meet, and dropped the Mid-South Meet by only one point.

Coach Sharp's Career Ends With Winning Team

This was Coach Sharp's last year at Webb, in commemoration of his great contributions, the Board of Trustees set up the B. E. Sharp Track Award to be given at the Sports Banquet to the track man who best exemplifies the ideals that Coach Sharp has worked for. This year the award was given to Ian Zirkle, who was captain of the team and a multi-place winner in the Mid-South Track Meet. This was not only Coach Sharp's last year, but it was also the last year that Webb was a member of the Mid-South Association. Next year Webb will be in the K.I.L., where we hope to maintain our excellent track record.

Junior High Track Team Gains Experience

A quick hand-off between Haslam and Ingram sends 880-relay to victory

Coach Jim McClain's Junior High Track program this year was not his best ever, but of course it had its good points. The Junior High team started off very well, defeating Tyson Junior High 52-48. In their next meet, the team tied with Maryville 50-50, and the rest of the season consisted of close losses.

Jimmy Haslam, high point man for the season, staged an excellent showing in the 100-yard dash. Sam Watson was the best 220 man, while Ben McMurry took the top slot in the 440-yard dash. The line-ups for the two relays fluctuated often, but the 880-relay was generally run by Jimmy Haslam, George Kern, Lee Ingram, and Sam Watson; and the 440-relay by Martin Walter, Ben McMurry, Bill Ayres, and Lee Ingram. The 880-yard run was performed by Eric Deeds and a host of others. Briefly, outstanding in the field events were Jimmy Haslam, high jump, Ricky Dew, shot put, Ricky Dover, discus, George Kern, pole vault, and Lee Ingram, broad jump. Lee set a new broad jump record with a leap of 19'0 1/4".

The eighth grade lost its meet with McCallie, as did the seventh grade, but both put up a good fight.

All these athletes should definitely become outstanding track men when they reach the varsity team.

Golf Team Pars Season

For the first time in four years, the Webb School golf team produced a winning season. The record was nine wins and seven losses with the nine wins tying the school record. This was a real achievement, considering the rough schedule the team was up against.

This year Mr. Tarvin took Mr. Webb's place as coach and caddy because the latter was tied up with the Building Fund. The team was an experienced one, being composed of three returning lettermen, Henry Gardner, Morton Massey, Steve Davis, and two newcomers, David Mirts, and Searle Gillespie. The team improved steadily over the course of the season, at one time winning six matches in a row. Highlights of the season include two shut-out victories over Farragut and a victory over long-time rival West.

Four of the year's lettermen will not be returning next year, resulting in a completely new line-up of team members for next year's golf season.

Tennis Teams Place High In Area Matches

The Boys' and Girls' Tennis Teams this year both had successful seasons. The Girls' Team won the City Championship Trophy, while the Boys' Team placed third in the City League.

The girls had an undefeated season this year, ending with a 5-0 record. The team was composed of Candy Reynolds, Rebecca Garcia, Gerry Matthews, Molly Gillespie, Captain Flossie McNabb, and Nancy Nixon. The girls, being in the Mid-South this year, instead of the T.S.S.A.A., were unable to enter and capture the regional honors as in preceding years. Having only one senior on the team, Webb can expect to see an even better than perfect Girls' Tennis Team next year.

The Boys' Tennis Team, being a little disorganized at first, got off to a slow start but quickly gathered momentum and ended with a regular season record of 4-2, losing two very close matches to Oak Ridge and McMinn County. At the end of regular season play, the Boys' Team was tied with Jefferson City for second place, and in a play-off match the Spartans barely lost. The Boys' Team consisted of Sterchi Morton, Bill Chesney, Captain Jeff Hodges, Phil Campbell, Dick Willingham, and Mike Glover. With only one senior on the squad, next year's Boys' Tennis Team should prove to be impressive.

Board Of Trustees Plans School Expansion

Made up of a group of citizens personally interested in the maintenance of excellence in education, the Board of Trustees of the Webb School of Knoxville devotes innumerable hours each year to defining Webb's objectives and policies, in both academic and extracurricular activities, and to co-ordinating school projects. President-elect of the Board of Trustees is Mr Robert Young, who will succeed this year's President, Mr Alfred Sanford. II

Outstanding among this year's activities has been the fund-raising drive, which successfully raised the $350,000 needed to build the science complex, on which construction will begin in the near future. Containing science classrooms, laboratories, a large lecture hall, and facilities for arts and crafts as well as for individual research, this new building will complete Webb's physical plant, except for the long-awaited auditorium which will be constructed either at the same time as the Science building or in the near future

Another notable action of the Board this year involved the creation of the B. E. Sharp Track Award. This award is to be given to that member of the track team who best exemplifies Coach Sharp's ideals in track competition

Webb Seniors Receive National Recognition

After rigorous testing beginning in February, 1968, with the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test and continuing through the College Board SAT's, five Webb seniors learned in early April that they had achieved finalist status in the National Merit Scholarship competition. Receiving this high honor, which places them in the upper 1% of all United States high school seniors academically were Becky Greene, Jeff Hodges, Beth Rader, Bruce Southworth, and Katherine Talley. Despite the limited number of scholarships available, and despite the fact that according to the statistics a school the size of Webb should have a winner only every 8 1/3 years, in 1969 Webb was fortunate enough to have not one but three National Merit Scholarship winners. Beth, Bruce, and Jeff all received this honor, doubling the previous number of winners from Webb. Beth and Bruce each received one-time $1000.00 awards, while Jeff received a four-year award sponsored by Tulane University.

In addition to Webb's three National Merit Scholars, three Webb seniors, Becky Greene, Beth Rader, and Bruce Southworth, were nominated by the school and selected in December, 1968, as Outstanding Teenagers of America for 1969. The Outstanding Americans Foundation, a nonprofit organization dedicated to honoring, inspiring, and encouraging young people to take full advantage of the opportunities in America, sponsors annually this awards program, like the National Merit Scholarship competition, it reflects honor both on the students chosen and on their schools.

Junior Projects Raise Funds for a Great Prom

"Do it better than it's ever been done before."

This was the mission of the Junior Class of 1969, and it was evident in their attitude from the very beginning of the school year. Every day a number of boys gave up a part of their activity period in order to sell ice cream to raise money for the Junior-Senior prom. A group of juniors organized a country social which would have been a miserable failure had it not been backed by a genuine enthusiasm and verve generated by their classmates. The juniors carried off the "spirit stick" from the McCallie pep rally because of this same earnestness and zeal. They backed those who organized the bake sales and made them great successes. Finally, to culminate the year, these same students held the best Junior-Senior prom in the history of Webb by working so hard that they earned almost twice as much money as any preceding class.

An integral part of Upper School life, the sophomores contributed greatly to the Webb effort, both in athletics and in academics. In football, basketball, track, and minor sports tenth graders added power and depth. Likewise while taking advantage of a wide variety of courses, they continued to prepare for school leadership by participation in extra-curricular activities such as student government, clubs, and various publications- the annual, the newspaper, and the literary magazine. And just think, senior privileges are just three years away!

Ninth Graders Become Lower School Leaders

The freshmen, now the leaders of the Lower School, met an extremely challenging but rewarding year as they undertook increased responsibility and consequently enjoyed a number of new privileges, such as the right to attend Upper School social functions. Holding most of the offices in the Lower School, the ninth graders soon became thoroughly acquainted with the organization and operation of the Student Government Association, the school clubs, and the school publications. Thus they will be well prepared to enter into Upper School the next year.

Responsibility Faces the Eighth Graders

No longer seventh graders, the Eighth Grade found life and classes at Webb becoming increasingly challenging. As they acquired new knowledge and study skills, eighth graders also began to learn the two secrets of high school success—studying and thinking. Of course, the Eighth Grade spent much time looking forward to the Ninth Grade, which brings with it the new responsibility of Lower School leadership.

The sun now sets on the 1969 school year.

This year has been a year of hopes,

of dreams—some fulfilled,

of new ambitions and new achievements. But there will be another year, another opportunity—

another day, tomorrow

There will be another sun rising

The first of these is the fact that the system is not a simple one. It is a complex system, and as such, it is not possible to understand it by looking at its parts in isolation. The system is a whole, and its behavior is determined by the interactions between its parts. This is a fundamental principle of systems thinking, and it is one that is often overlooked in traditional engineering and science.

The second of these is the fact that the system is not a static one. It is a dynamic system, and its behavior changes over time. This is another fundamental principle of systems thinking, and it is one that is often overlooked in traditional engineering and science.

The third of these is the fact that the system is not a linear one. It is a non-linear system, and its behavior is not predictable by simple linear models. This is another fundamental principle of systems thinking, and it is one that is often overlooked in traditional engineering and science.

The fourth of these is the fact that the system is not a closed one. It is an open system, and it interacts with its environment. This is another fundamental principle of systems thinking, and it is one that is often overlooked in traditional engineering and science.

The fifth of these is the fact that the system is not a simple one. It is a complex system, and as such, it is not possible to understand it by looking at its parts in isolation. The sixth of these is the fact that the system is not a static one. It is a dynamic system, and its behavior changes over time. This is another fundamental principle of systems thinking, and it is one that is often overlooked in traditional engineering and science.

The seventh of these is the fact that the system is not a linear one. It is a non-linear system, and its behavior is not predictable by simple linear models. This is another fundamental principle of systems thinking, and it is one that is often overlooked in traditional engineering and science.

The ninth of these is the fact that the system is not a simple one. It is a complex system, and as such, it is not possible to understand it by looking at its parts in isolation. The system is a whole, and its behavior is determined by the interactions between its parts. The first part of the paper discusses the importance of maintaining accurate records of all transactions. This is particularly true for businesses that operate in a highly competitive market. By keeping detailed records, a business can identify areas where costs can be reduced and revenues can be increased. This information is also useful for tax purposes, as it allows the business to claim deductions for expenses that are directly related to its operations.

In addition to maintaining accurate records, it is also important for a business to have a clear understanding of its financial position at all times. This can be achieved by regularly reviewing the balance sheet and income statement. These statements provide a snapshot of the business's financial health and can help the owner make informed decisions about the future of the business.

Another key aspect of financial management is the ability to forecast future cash flows. This involves estimating the amount of cash that the business is likely to receive and pay out over a given period. By doing this, the business can ensure that it has enough cash on hand to cover its obligations and can plan for any potential shortfalls.

Finally, it is important for a business to have a solid understanding of its market and its competitors. This involves conducting regular market research and staying up-to-date on industry trends. By doing this, the business can identify opportunities for growth and develop strategies to stay ahead of the competition.
